四、閱讀測驗 (41~50 題, 每題 2 分, 共 20 分)

(1) John has been a butcher(肉店老闆) for more than twenty years. His shop is famous not only because he sells good meat but because he is kind to stray(流浪的) cats and dogs.

Every early morning, seven dogs and five cats wait in front of his butcher shop to get their good meal of the day. When he sees his four-legged friends, he says hello to them, puts meat on plates, and gives it to them. They eat it quickly and then leave.

How did John start to feed these little friends? The story went back to six years ago. A stray dog, Bobo, began to appear at his shop. She would stand on two legs and look at the meat on the counter(櫃台) to let John know that she was starved. John loved the dog, and he would feed her right away.

_____班_____號 姓名: _____

One day, Lisa, a friend of John's, saw Bobo standing on two legs to ask for food. She thought it was lovely, so she took a video of Bobo, and then John shared it on his Facebook page. The video went popular, and so did Bobo and John's butcher shop.

Bobo passed away last year, and John missed her very much. However, he doesn't stop taking care of stray animals. "It's been a pleasure to help my little furry(覆有毛皮的) friends," he said.

41.() Which is the best title for this reading?

- (A) John's Favorite Dog
(B) A Video of a Butcher Shop
(C) Stray Animals
(D) A Butcher and His Furry Friends

42.() What does starved mean in the reading?

- (A) Sick. (B) Bored. (C) Hungry. (D) Thirsty.

43.() Which is NOT talked about in the reading?

- (A) How Bobo helped John's business.
(B) When John usually feeds stray animals.
(C) How John treats the stray cats and dogs at his door.
(D) What kind of meat John gives to stray cats and dogs.

People's needs for cars and motorcycles have been raising so high that people cannot do without them in their everyday lives. But what was life like before there were cars and motorcycles? Take a minute and think about it. Or take a day or two to experience it!

It started as an idea, and people call it World Carfree Day. On September 22, people in many cities all over the world mark the day by giving their cars a rest and taking the bus or the subway. Some may even drag out the old bicycle!

Taiwan's three big cities, Taipei, Taichung, and Kaohsiung designated an area of the city to be free of cars. It wants people to drive less often and try to take the bus or the metro more often, so the environment will become better and better to live in.

Kiki: How long have you been in Taiwan?
 Leo: For many years. I came here in 1999.
 Kiki: Why did you decide to live here?
 Leo: At first, I took a trip to Taiwan with my friend. After we visited some places, I fell in love with Taiwan. I love everything in Taiwan. The scenes are beautiful, the cultures are special, people are friendly, and the food is delicious.

Kiki: Aren't you afraid of stinky tofu?

Leo: No. It tastes as delicious as cheese in my country, and it is my favorite food in Taiwan. Besides it, I also like chicken rice, beef noodles, Taiwanese fried chicken, and pearl milk tea.

Kiki: How much do you know about the cultures?

Leo: People don't like the number "four" because it sounds like death. Crows aren't lucky birds in Taiwan. When a friend gets married, people will give him or her a red envelope, not a white envelope.

Kiki: Then what do people do on Chinese New Year?

Leo: Before Chinese New Year comes, people are busy cleaning their houses. On Chinese New Year's Eve, they have a big dinner with their family. After dinner, children can get lucky money in red envelopes from their parents or grandparents. On Chinese New Year, most people wear their new clothes and shoes. During the holiday, people don't like to break anything, and they always say good words to each other. Am I right?

Kiki: Sure. You really know a lot about Taiwan.
